Dr. Toni Hatton
The Attractive Thinker Guru

Hello Dr. Toni Hatton,

It was such an honor and a pleasure to have you featured as a guest on my podcast, The Purpose Driven Mother. From our initial conversation I was captivated and intrigued by the unique tone, inflection, and power in your voice. Not only did you use this God sent gift to deeply connect with and enlighten my listeners, but you also conveyed a humbly empowered presence that reached the minds and the hearts of each purpose driven mother that yearns for more on her journey.

You could not have presented a greater conversation masterpiece, "Self-Assessing to Manifesting Your Dreams with Vision", which truly allowed me as well as my listeners to shift our mindset, look at our journey through a different lens, and "think attractively". Your words truly resonated with me as I continue to pave the way for other mothers seeking their purpose. Most importantly, my vision has become clearer as I am able to boldly treasure my gems and now fulfill a greater calling for my life. Aforementioned, it was an honor to have a phenomenally passionate and sophisticated woman such as yourself, inspire and empower the masses on my podcast; and for this reason, I would highly recommend you as a featured speaker on various platforms including radio shows, TV broadcasts, conferences, and more. Thank you again for making a special appearance on The Purpose Driven Mother podcast and I look forward to future encounters with The Attractive Thinker Guru.

Sincerely,

Alisha Askew
